REWARD OFFERED FOR UP WIRE GHOST

ried six servicemen, arms linked, Times Square district. Each was equipped with a horn and noise-making device.

Buenos Aires, Ottawa and Rio De Janeiro had their wild moments of thrill-seeking, too. And in Honolulu a brief demonstration was highlighted by the shrill screams of radio stunts and ships' whistles. San Franciscoans were exhilarated, but for the most part received the news calmly.

Shortly after the surrender flash was transmitted and killed, UP issued a statement to the effect that the message had been "fed" into its leased wire system, had carried a Washington deadline, but was not transmitted by its Washington bureau.

UP said the FBI and FCC were asked immediately to ascertain who could have got in on the wire system "with the intent to disseminate false information."

Offers Reward
Hugh Baillie, UP president, offered a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who transmitted the mysterious flash.

UP in New York explained that the service's southern trunk wire which operates through Washington, was broken shortly after 5:30 p. m. with a flash which carried a Washington deadline and stated: "The president has just announced that Japan has accepted the terms of the allies."

This was relayed on UP's main trunk wire in the following form: "Flash—editors, Japan accepts surrender terms of the allies."

The bureau said that two minutes later the flash was killed "after it developed that it had not originated in its Washington bureau."

The White House immediately issued a denial that President Truman had announced a Jap surrender.

Burton predicted there would be much controversy over details of the Barkley program, particularly whether the unemployment benefit plan should be adopted or state unemployment systems be depended on to meet the situation.

Barkley said that congress would be called back into session definitely Sept. 4 or 5. Chairman of committees dealing with reconversion subjects already are mapping plans for early action.

SWISS HAND REPLY OF ALLIED LEADERS TO JAP WAR LORDS

reported that operators at an unspecified radio station in Geneva also were "standing by, tuned in to Tokyo, waiting tensely for Japan's reply."

The Swiss radio to Schwarzenburg said at 4:30 a. m. PWI that no reply had been received from Tokyo to the Allied note up to the time of broadcast.

Normal Communications

"It has been repeatedly established," the Schwarzenburg radio continued, "that radio communications between Japan and Switzerland are normal."

The Tokyo message said: "Still coming. Please wait. How are receiving conditions?"

Earlier listening posts in both the U. S. and Europe a Tokyo transmitter reporting to a receiving point in Switzerland that "some important message is not yet in hand."

The message, undoubtedly some reply to the Allied terms which provide that if Emperor Hirohito subjects himself to directives of an American Allied commander the Japs may have power under unconditional surrender demands, supposedly will be transmitted some time today.

The Japanese Denel agency announced the audience granted by Hirohito to the foreign minister.

The meeting took place at 2:10 p. m. (1:10 a. m. EWT).

According to Domei the emperor heard a report from Tokyo "on matters under his jurisdiction."

The time that the Tokyo wireless was calling the station in Switzerland to ask receiving conditions was 1:20 a. m. EWT of 2:30 p. m. in Tokyo, 10 minutes after Tokyo was reported to have entered the Imperial palace.

Cabinet Meets

The Japanese cabinet was reported to have met four hours during the night, apparently to consider the Allied stipulations calling for domination of Hirohito and the calling of future democratic elections.

Tokyo quarters issued no statement on what transpired at the meeting.

The Swedish foreign office said it knew nothing of a report that King Gustav V might be called upon to be an intermediary in negotiations between the Japanese and the Allies.

The Japanese press meanwhile appeared again to the people of Japan to stand behind their emperor. They asked that he be given "unswerving loyalty."

The Japanese newspapers contended it was only facts which will save the nation from the war, and it has ever been confronted with.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(INS)—The Swiss legation in Washington said it had no receipt Japan's reply to the Allies' surrender terms up to 8:45 a. m.

The legation had remained open all night, but an attaché said there had been "no sign of anything whatsoever."

A. That time there was no indication of any immediate developments.

Last Round Blows Staggering Tokyo

Yank And British Carrier Planes Launch Fresh Attack On Jap Capital

By JULIAN HARTT
U.S. Staff Correspondent

ABOARD ADMIRAL MCCAIN'S FLAGSHIP, Aug. 13.—(INS)—An other clinching argument for peace upon war-weary Tokyo was slammed home today as hundreds of U.S. and British carrier planes raided Japan's capital and beat up airfields from Matsushima on the north to Nagoya on the southwest. The Japs were stung into retaliation, but what was apparently the lead plane of an attack was blasted into the sea and no other planes approached the fleet.

The main targets of the powerful carrier plane armada were war industries in Tokyo itself.

Blue-winged, white-starred planes sprayed the targets with rockets and bullets, underscoring what is still the lot of the Japs until surrender.

The first lone Jap bomber, a "Mitsubishi" which task force officers believed to be an attack leader, ventured near our destroyer screen early this morning, carrying a torpedo in her belly. She was blasted into the sea by our combat air patrol so fast her pilot never knew what hit him.

Weather over the target was reported better than average.

Navy Flier Stages One Man Invasion

Forced Down Off Jap Coast,
Flier Hides Until Rescued
By Other Planes

By ELGAR BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH ADM. HALSEY'S FLEET, Aug. 13—A one-man American "invasion" of the Japanese mainland was disclosed today by a naval lieutenant following his dramatic rescue from the shores of the enemy's home island of Honshu.

The "invader," "Columbus," was Lt. Vernon T. Cumbre, 24, of Lombard, Ill., the first American known to have been rescued from Nippon proper.

Deadstick Landing

Shot down mid-morning of August 9 while bombing Onuma airfield, the Coastal scout made a deadstick landing five miles off the coast. His raft was quickly driven ashore.

"I hid in a sparse clump of trees the rest of that day," Cumbre said. "All night long the Japs failed to find me, and at dawn I heard the roar of planes."

They proved to be Corsairs and I signalled and tried to paddle out through a small bay, but the surf was against me.

"At noon I saw two Kingfishers with fighter escort approaching, and I knew then that my plight had been discovered."

Cumbre said one of the seaplanes landed in suite of wind-whipped seas. Shore batteries almost within his reach opened up on the plane, augmented by anti-aircraft guns on the east shore of Onuma Bay.

The Kingfisher pilot, Lt. Ralph

Jay Jacobs, 25, of Chicago, ignored enemy fire, made an expert landing and taxied to the edge of the breakers, not more than 50 yards offshore.

"I saw that Cumbre couldn't breast the heavy surf," Jacobs recalled. "So I stood up and tried to toss him a line."

"Then an unusually heavy combat took place, and the Kingfisher raced crazily away from the two swimming men. Heavy and light Japanese ack-ack trailed the runaway plane."

Then into those bullet-splashed waters there plunged another Kingfisher pilot to transform stark tragedy into a recklessly heroic rescue.

This pilot, who dared almost certain death, was Lt. (jg) Almon P. Oliver, 21, of Hayward, Cal., who is no newcomer to heroism. He holds the air medal for outstanding courage at Iwo Jima, where he stayed afloat, potting ack-ack batteries until they were knocked out.

Heroic Rescue

When thrown from the plane Jacobs apparently hit the bottle and the big Kingfisher raced crazily away from the two swimming men. Heavy and light Japanese ack-ack trailed the runaway plane.

GI's Recovery 'Near Miracle' Surgeons Say

ARMY HQ. MIDPAC Aug. 13.—(INS)—A man who refused to die after a wound which "should have been fatal" according to all the rules is returning to full health in an Army general hospital on Oahu, T. H.

Army and Navy doctors have described as a "near miracle" the survival of Pvt. Raymond J. Carney, 36, mortally wounded in the attack on Iwo Jima, who is now recovering in the 7th Infantry division in Okinawa.

"The getting well now, but for a while I was a medical curiosity," Carney said. "My case was studied as a 'break' by doctors in a General Hospital who couldn't understand why I survived."

The doctor who treated the private's leg, fractured his leg and three perforated his diaphragm and fractured his ribs on the way out.

Spine wounds in the battlefield medical aid were treated. Carney's leg was amputated and his diaphragm was repaired. He lay in bed for two weeks.

"I lay still, except when the doctors came to see me. I was in the hospital for two months when I was brought to the general hospital on Oahu."

Carney's recovery after being wounded in the Pacific was regarded by medical men as a "miracle" under heavy fire.

Carney's brother, Mr. Joseph Carney, 7300 St. Lawrence avenue, Chicago, has fought on Guam, Leyte and the Philippines during 29 months with the 7th division.

SEARS Graduate Corsetiere Attends Pittsburgh School

Mrs. Elizabeth Bender, graduate corsetiere of Sears, Roebuck & Co., has just returned from a Corset School and Shopping at Pittsburgh, Pa. Several other graduate corsetieres from Sears stores in this area were in attendance.

The school was conducted by Miss Alice Hansen, Mr. F. C. Hecht, Mr. L. M. Goldsmith and Miss Nancy Lee, nationally recognized artists, designers and corsetry experts.

A complete line of corsetry, garter belt, corset supports, brassieres and foundation garment accessories were exhibited. The functional purpose of each garment, the figure for which it was designed and other pertinent information vital to corsetieres and customers alike were explained in minute detail during the course of the school.

A school of fitting and altering was held in which all attending corsetieres participated.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bender has returned with advice and information which she will gladly give to all women who have figure or foundation garment problems.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bender also announces fresh shipments of new garments for fall—garments which will give comfort, grace and poise to women of all ages.

Stock Guam With 55 Domestic Pheasants

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—(INS)—Fifty-five California pheasants are making their new homes six thousand miles out in the Pacific Ocean on the island of Guam.

The birds were flown from Sacramento and within 57 hours after they left California, were "planted" in two groups on the South Pacific island.

Their trip included 31 hours in the air at altitudes up to 8,500 feet. Only five of the original shipment of 60 birds died en route.

The pheasants were flown to Admiral Chester W. Nimitz headquarters through an arrangement with the California state division of fish and game.

Kite With Wire Cord Dangerous
Mothers and fathers should take their children away from him if it is an Army and Navy Target Kite equipped with wire cord, according to a warning issued today by the accident prevention committee of the Edison Electric Institute.

The wire cord should be replaced with cotton or linen twine—and this goes for any type of kite.

Such a make of kite was recently sold with 2,000 feet of insulated copper wire. If the wire, covered or otherwise, should come in contact with overhead electric transmission lines, an injurious or even fatal amount of current would be carried to the boy on the ground.

Stores selling these kites removed the wire cord from those remaining in stock after the danger had been pointed out to them.

Safety rules for present and future kite fliers are: always use cotton or linen string—metal or tin-plated is dangerous; fly kites in open fields; do not climb poles or throw rocks to get kites off wires; never run across streets or highways in setting the kite into the air.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Aug. 13.—(INS)—At the army air forces' Las Vegas gunnery school, they have devised the ultimate in realistic gunnery drill for B-29 Superfortresses.

Kingcobra fighters projected by a heat-treated aluminum plate are sent aloft to serve as targets for the Superforts. The Superfort gunners fire bullets of powdered lead at the fighters which shatter without harm.

When a bomber's bullet strikes a fighter, electrical gadgets light up the Kingcobra's nose like a pinball machine, and an automatic counter tallies the hits.

Hirohito, emperor of Japan and son of heaven to millions of his subjects, today faced the imminent prospect of taking orders from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, liberator of the Philippines and America's foremost booster of the cornob pipe.

Issuing orders will be nothing new for MacArthur, but to hand them out to such an illustrious personage should repay him a large measure for the indignities he suffered on Batavia, Corregidor, and on the long flight to Australia.

The son of heaven was born on April 19, 1901, the son of Emperor Yoshihito. He succeeded to the throne on Christmas Day, 1926. Ironically, a receipt issued by the new emperor on ascending the throne laid great stress on harmony at home and peace abroad.

While there is some question as to how MacArthur will treat his royal underling in the event that Japan accepts the Allies' counterproposal, U. S. Adm. William F. "Bull" Halsey has publicly expressed a liking for Hirohito's white horse, and has stated he intends to ride it down Tokyo's main thoroughfare.

And that might pain the emperor more than any other slight that is forced upon him. His horse ranks in his esteem with his wife, the Princess Nagako, his two sons and three daughters.

Col. Hines pointed out that the present number of Japanese combat troops is one of the war's imponderables. He asked that Americans consider the enemy as strong as themselves and produce material of war accordingly.

Seaman Jones has been in the service three years. Before joining the armed forces he was employed at the Shenango Pottery plant.

Jap Population May Be Over 100 Million
SOUTH BARRIE, Mass.—(INS)—Japan may have far more people than the one hundred million she admits to in census reports.

Col. Paul H. Hines, Chief of the Army Forces Wool Top Special Project, told a group of wool workers recently, that the empire of the little men has long been known for a willingness to juggle vital statistics.

Col. Hines pointed out that the present number of Japanese combat troops is one of the war's imponderables. He asked that Americans consider the enemy as strong as themselves and produce material of war accordingly.

New York Sees 'More Dress' In Drapery Effects

Accent On Small Waist.
Round Hips, Deep Sleeves
As Newest Clothes
Are Shown

By JEANETTE SMITH
New York Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(INS)—
Once more a new season rolls around—and once more leading American designers have wrought their customary wartime miracle.

Despite government limitations and scarcity of materials, they have succeeded in turning out dresses that look softly feminine and give the illusions of "more dress" through cleverly placed draperies and other effects.

Severe Or With Chi-Chi
What's more, they also offer variety. From the comparatively severe dresses for business wear through elaborate occasion, just as in pre-war years.

Autumn dresses present a fascinating gamut of color, with brilliant red predominating. Grey is popular, especially when combined with gold.
Reminiscent of autumn leaves are the brown-and-gold combinations.
Black will be good, as always, this fall, and those who like them can have the vivid tones—amethyst, emerald green, shocking pink, and others. One recent fashion showing featured "winter white."

One of the most important points in the entire fashion picture is that Miss America's wardrobe will be truly "made in America" this coming season.

Dropped Shoulder Imported
The only exceptions are the dropped shoulder sleeves contributed by Balenciaga, and a few very free adaptations of Lelong's flat folds draping the hips.

The rounded shoulder, in dramatic contrast to the square shoulder line in vogue for many years, is a new fashion highlight. Another is the "nipped-in" waist, which in turn emphasizes the femininity of the hips.

The various designers have exercised considerable ingenuity in using draperies to enhance the hips, create the illusion of a tiny waist, and present the appearance of "more skirt"—even while keeping within the bounds of the L-85 order, limiting use of materials for dresses.

A few other new fashion highlights in dresses include higher necklines, some reaching almost to the chin; the return of big collars for suits; tricky use of lace to trim wool cocktail dresses, considerable showing of jersey and emphasis on wide sleeves and very deep armholes.

Illustrated Map Of City In 1896 Hung In Library

Lawrence County Historical society has received a very interesting gift in the form of an illustrated map of New Castle as it appeared in 1896. The gift will be hung in the historical society's room at the public library.

The map was turned over to Mrs. Alice Sterling, librarian, by Roger Jewett, who recently tendered his resignation as executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association.

In a letter to Mrs. Carrie Jeffrey Roberts, president of the Lawrence County Historical society, Mr. Jewett states that the map was given to him by Frank C. Douds at the time Mr. Douds turned his plant over to the present owners on condition that should Mr. Jewett ever leave New Castle the map was to be presented to the historical society.

Mr. Jewett, who will become a member of the staff of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade on October 1, says he believes the map is one that has an increasing historical value and significance. It is one that will be viewed with particular interest by residents who still remember Old Times Day on Wednesday, August 15.

Extent of City In 1896
In 1896 the city, according to the territory taken in by the map, extended from Big Run on the south to a few scattered houses above Boyles street as it is labeled on the north.

On the west, Penn avenue between West Washington street and Boyles street was the boundary. On the east, although it was the most thickly built residential section of the town, there were no houses beyond Scott and Ray streets.

Shows Locations
On the map are locations and small sketches of public schools, the court house, which stands on the same site today, the Opera House, since destroyed by fire, Shengling hospital, which stood on the corner of the hill above Grant street between Beaver and Shenango streets.

For the accommodation of the constant flow of business visitors to New Castle, there were the Fountain Inn, the Leslie House, the New Hotel Excelsior, Hotel Simpson, the Nicklin House and Hotel Westinghouse.

Industrial Sites
Among the sites indicated of New Castle's industries at that time there were the New Castle Wire & Nail company, the New Castle Steel & Tin Plate company, the Vulcan

Bronze Medal For Capt. A. O. Knecht

Captain Albert O. Knecht, an employee of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Co., has been awarded the bronze star medal for heroism during a glider landing in Germany on September 18, 1944, when he moved among the crashed gliders despite severe enemy fire, to aid the injured and supervise the unloading and organizing of his group.

After making a personal reconnaissance of the unfamiliar territory, Captain Knecht led his men after dark to the hostile positions, dispersing three German patrol en route, and then rejoined his battalion without losing a single man. Before entering service the officer worked for the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company as a ceramic engineer.

Churches Here In 1896
Churches located within the city limits at that time were the Church of the Disciples, the First, Episcopal and Coptic Methodist, the First and Second Baptist, St. Joseph's and St. Mary's Catholic, the Evangelical, the First and Second U. P. and the First, Central and Reformed Presbyterian, the Primitive Methodist, St. Paul's Lutheran, Trinity Episcopal and the Swedish.

The map was published and copyrighted by T. M. Fowler and James B. Moore. The copy that has been presented to the historical society had hung in Mr. Douds' office for many years.

Labor Secretary Plans Overhaul

Secretary Schwelienbach To Streamline Department To Avoid Overlapping

By PHILLIPS J. PUCK
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Plans for reorganization of the government labor machinery were completed today and awaiting approval of President Truman.

The new plan, drafted by Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwelienbach, immediately on taking office, has been completed more than two weeks ahead of the original September 1 deadline.

Aides of Schwelienbach said the Department of Labor will be ready to move rapidly to tackle post-V-J Day reconversion problems and the critical assignment of maintaining industrial peace.

Details of the reorganization program will not be disclosed until it receives White House endorsement. But one official declared the program will make it unnecessary in the future "to run around to 33 different agencies on a labor matter."

Proceeds Cautiously

Schwelienbach is proceeding cautiously on the suggestion of Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) for an inquiry into the need for a major overhaul of the WLB, and terminate the policy of ordering plant seizures to enforce its directives. There is doubt also that the secretary of labor could certify disputes to the board which do not threaten to interfere with the prosecution of the war.

Labor argues that an entirely new machinery will be needed to administer wage controls after V-J Day. The WLB, modified, was policy allowing certain increases above the Little Steel formula, probably will come out this week well in advance of any decision on the future of the board itself.

Meantime, the immediate problem confronting government planners is to determine the future of the War Labor Board.

V-J Day will signify the end of labor no-strike pledges, a major bulwark of the WLB, and terminate the policy of ordering plant seizures to enforce its directives. There is doubt also that the secretary of labor could certify disputes to the board which do not threaten to interfere with the prosecution of the war.

Labor argues that an entirely new machinery will be needed to administer wage controls after V-J Day. The WLB, modified, was policy allowing certain increases above the Little Steel formula, probably will come out this week well in advance of any decision on the future of the board itself.

District War Record Great

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13. (INS)—The Army Ordnance department said today Pittsburgh district mills furnished 19 billion dollars worth of war materials since Pearl Harbor.

Col. Robert C. Downie, head of the Ordnance district, said the "ammunition record constituted a greater contribution to the district's war effort than any other item."

The area turned out 32,370,802 finished shells from 20mm to 160mm, he said. About 28,000,000 of these were three inches or more in diameter.

Avenging Airmen Hunt Jap Raider

U. S. Battleship Torpedoes
At Okinawa As Japs Consider Peace Terms

By JOHN R. HENRY
U. S. Staff Correspondent
GUAM, Aug. 13.—(INS)—
Fifteen hundred avenging Third Fleet carrier airmen flayed the debris-strewn Tokyo area for 12 hours today after a large American warship had been torpedoed at Okinawa in a sneak Jap attack.

(The Jap Domei agency, admitting the attacks continued from 5:30
a. m. to 5:30 p. m., Japanese time, claimed however that only a total of 800 planes took part in the lashing raids on airfields, transportation facilities and industrial areas over the Kanto region of east central Honshu.)

Claim 17 Planes
Domei claimed that 17 planes had been shot down and "at least 25 others damaged."

Admiral William F. Halsey sent his carrier plane force against the heart of Nippon in successive waves as Jap leaders slowly considered peace at the price of subjecting their emperor to allied military rule.

American and British flat-top fliers struck with a fury heightened by the news that a lone Jap torpedo plane had hit and damaged what was officially described as a "major" U. S. warship in Okinawa's Buckner bay Sunday evening.

This blow came some 24 hours after Fleet Admiral Chester W.
Nimitz had alerted all his forces against enemy acts of treachery under the cloak of Japan's bid for peace.

Some twelve hours after the aerial torpedoing of the war vessel—probably a battleship or carrier—Halsey's airmen unleashed their fresh assault on some 25 airdromes and industrial targets in the Tokyo zone.

Japanese imperial headquarters issued a communique today claiming that Nip submarines sank what was called a "large-sided plane carrier" southeast of Okinawa Sunday evening. The communique was broadcast by Tokyo radio.

Surrender Or Else
Serving further to hasten Japan's decision on surrender or total destruction were continued attacks by the night's air forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur who is expected to command the allied forces that will occupy vanquished Nippon.

MacArthur's swarming planes lashed the enemy homeland Sunday after hitting targets on three of Japan's islands the day before.

"Bull" Halsey's veteran airmen commenced striking their favorite target—Tokyo and the surrounding Kanto plain—at dawn today as a Jap aerial thrust against the huge Third Fleet was frustrated.

Open to All, but...

"The open road" is no chance expression. America's highways serve everyone; open to all.

The road has its rules for the public's protection; known to everyone, observed by all but a very few. It is these few who can make the road a thing of danger to themselves and to others.

This great national market, the New York Stock Exchange, likewise is an essential facility, open to all who are willing to use it responsibly.

Like the public highways, this market also has its rules—more strict in many instances than those laid down by Government.

Accidents, though the rare exception, can happen. Some degree of risk is inescapable. But—just as knowing how to drive a car safely can reduce highway risk, so better knowledge of how to use the facilities of this market can reduce the risk inherent in all ownership.

One basic principle to remember when you use the facilities of this market—have the facts. It is unwise and unnecessary to rely on rumors, tips, impulses. Under agreements of this Exchange and the companies listed here, facts about listed securities are disclosed for the public benefit... available to all.

Another basic principle is that risk is inseparable from the ownership of securities, just as it is in the ownership of any other form of property.

The President of this Exchange offers this advice: "Access to free markets should not be abused.

Those who are unable to judge values, or are unwilling to rely on factual information as the basis for judging values, or who cannot afford to take risks, should stay out of the market."

This market, one of our country's indispensable free institutions, is the broad national highway to widespread ownership of American industry. As a vital unit of the machinery through which capital is supplied to industry, it will play a necessary part in helping create more jobs for workers, more goods for users.

Where you see this sign, "Member New York Stock Exchange," you can find answers to questions about security ownership.

National Radiator Company Plans To Re-Employ Veterans

Comprehensive Program Of Re-Employment For World War II Veterans Announced

(Special To The News)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 12.—A comprehensive re-employment program for veterans of World War II has been established by The National Radiator Company, E. W. Longenecker, vice-president in charge of manufacturing announced today. The plan has been devised, he explained, to provide maximum incentives to return to the organization of those who left permanent and temporary jobs to enter the Armed Forces, and also to be of maximum interest to World War II veterans having no previous employment record with the Johnstown firm.

The re-employment plan has as its first objective, a scientific analysis of each job classification within the National organization. A personnel engineering firm has been engaged to study the company's plants and offices, one plant in New York and one in Johnstown, and to make rapid steps toward the completion of this analysis throughout the various other National plants.

National Radiator has established a tested and proven interviewing program designed to match the veteran's physical and mental capabilities with the best suited type of employment. Skills acquired by veterans while in the Armed Forces are investigated carefully to ascertain if such specialized training can be utilized.

Under the supervision of Glenn Ledebur, industrial relations counselor at National Radiator, a committee service for the veterans to aid in their re-orientation and rehabilitation has been established. Outside agencies engaged in veterans' welfare will be given co-operation by National Radiator. Committees, who will also follow-up and establish a rating of all veterans coming on the payroll, to determine availability and progress.

"We believe the returning service-man deserves all the help we can give him in re-fitting himself to civilian life," says Mr. Longenecker, in further commenting on the re-employment program. "We shall make a sincere and honest effort to do everything possible for him. Because of the manufacturing expansion of the company into the fields of powder metallurgy and industrial iron castings, postwar employment is expected to be substantially above prewar standards."

Church Must Lead In Peace To Come Says Congressman

Hon. Louis E. Graham Speaks At Sunday Evening Church Service

The church must assume leadership in the making of the peace plans and in the reconversion to follow, said the Hon. Louis E. Graham when he spoke at the Sunday evening union church service on the lawn of the First Christian church.

Settlement of these problems must be made in accord with the principles and teachings of the Christian faith, was the thought he stressed in a talk on "The Church and Peace in the Present Crisis."

Attendance at the service, in the series of summer lawn services sponsored by the Ministerial Association and Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union, was large.

Miss Thelma R. Bumbach was the leader.

Music included a solo by Miss Mary Abraham and a duet by Miss Abraham and David Lewis, with Miss Audie Cromie as accompanist. For hymns Miss Emma Patton was accompanied. David W. Rees is director of music.

Griff Thomas led a special prayer for peace. Rev. N. C. Perry gave the evening prayer and Rev. James N. Rainey led the offertory prayer.

Pledge to the flag was led by Bobby Glass. Members of the Central Christian C. E. society were ushers.

Wet Weather Won't Affect Peach Crop; Yield Low, Anyway

HARRISBURG, Aug. 13.—(INS)—The federal-state crop reporting service today announced that Pennsylvania peach production was not expected to be affected by excessive wet weather and that the yield would approximate 1,222,000 bushels.

Due to spring freezes, however, the crop was expected to fall 664,000 bushels under the 1944 output.

The service explained the report was based on a survey of conditions August 1 compared with those of a month earlier.

The rainy weather also promised the service to reduce estimates of apple production. During the month the rain caused a loss of approximately 260,000 bushels. It was stated while the total yield was not expected to amount to more than 3,640,000 bushels.

Production losses also were recorded for pears, grapes and cherries, the service added.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 13.—(INS)—Canadian government officials were embarrassed today over the premature release of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King's V-J day speech as the result of last night's false peace flash.

Seconds after the erroneous peace report was broadcast in the United States the Canadian Broadcasting company went on the air with the premier's previously recorded speech.

In his address, King thanked Divine Providence for the victorious end of hostilities and proclaimed Sunday a day of prayer and thanksgiving.

Tigers And Cubs Pad Leads After Games Sunday

Tigers Trim Yanks In Twin Bill, As Washington Browns Split

CUBS TAKE TWO FROM PHILLIES

By LES CONKLIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The National and American leagues were all square today in the delicate matter of "stealing" star pitchers.

After the Chicago Cubs apparently obtained a stranglehold on the National League pennant by buying Hank Borowsky from the New York Yankees, the Detroit Tigers seem to have gone themselves an equally good turn in trading Jim Tobin from the Boston Braves.

Tobin made a spectacular debut in his new job yesterday in the first game of a twin bill between the Tigers and the Yankees. After standing the Yankees on their heads during three innings of relief pitching with his "flatterball," Tobin won the game 9 to 6 in the 11th with a 400-foot, three-run home.

The Tigers also won the nightcap, 8 to 2, and increased their lead over Washington to two games. The Nats beat the St. Louis Browns in the opener 9 to 3, but in the nightcap B-B Monaghan of the Browns turned in a five-hitter and captured a 4 to 1 decision over Marlin Piretti.

The Chicago White Sox downed the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 3, after Jess Flores blanked them in the opener with four hits, 7 to 0. It was the Pale Hose's first defeat in a Sunday game at home this season.

Dave Ferris, miracle pitcher of the Boston Red Sox, ended his three-game losing streak by racking up victory No. 10 at the expense of Cleveland, 7 to 1. In the nightcap, Pete Centor subdued the Sox 8 to 2 for his sixth straight triumph.

Pirates-Braves Split

The Chicago Cubs took two from the Phillies 12 to 6, and 4 to 3. The Cubs now are 6½ games in front of the St. Louis Cardinals who are tied with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The New York Giants won two from the Cincinnati Reds 3 to 2 and 2 to 0. Pitcher Roy of Pittsburgh blanked Boston with six hits, 7 to 0, after the Braves had taken a 3 to 2 lead.

THE SILENT BACK

Philadelphia's 13—(INS)—The Phillies with the Brooklyn Dodgers were sent to the American Association, 13 to 9, with a 24-hour rest.

Football Coach, Bob Higgins of Penn State still is toying with the "D" during summer drills he concentrated on the angle wing, but experimented with a half dozen "T" plays.

Hot Pace Set In Tourney Sunday

Young Cleveland Golfer Three Under Par To Win Open Amateur Tourney Here

LOCAL GOLFERS DOWN ON LIST

Paced by a group of hot young golfers from Cleveland and Youngstown, Western Pennsylvania amateur public swingers were left at the post in the Western Pennsylvania-Eastern Ohio open amateur tournament staged at Sylvan Heights course Sunday under the auspices of the Sylvan Heights Golf League.

Joe Golob, who put together two sub-par rounds of 71-79 for a score of 141 placed the field, followed by Dick Neuman, of Cleveland with 71-72-143. Dr. Frank Bellino, of Youngstown, medalist with a 67 round in the morning was ten strokes over that for his afternoon, and tied with Vince DeAngelo, also of Youngstown, for third place with 144.

Frank Lasso, of Ellwood City, was best for the group of golfers who play the Sylvan Heights course regularly. Frank shot consistent ball and with a few breaks, might have been up at the top. He had rounds of 72-73 for 145, to tie for fourth place Marty Segedi and Fred Lombardo with 146's and Herman Hackett, Kureddy and Andy Justice with 150, were the only other local golfers to get in the money.

Game At Marshall Field Sunday Ends 14 To 0 With Moose On Short End

Hillsville put an awful crimp in the Moose club bid for the second-half title Sunday in the Lawrence County league, by handing the league leaders an unmerciful beating 14 to 0, to prolong the league card. Moose must win at Wampum Tuesday to clinch the second half.

Hillsville put on a batting exhibition yesterday that produced 19 hits with J. Pizzulo leading the parade with four. Calderaro, R. Conti and Hartman each having three. Extra-base hits were made by Marshall, a triple, Calderaro, Grist, J. Pizzulo and Evenoski doubles.

Hillsville climbed into a five to nothing lead in the first two innings, and in the last three frames added eight more. So effective and accurate was the Hillsville attack that not a Moose batter reached third base as he gave up five hits and held the Moose to a check. The Moose used three hurlers, Probst, Barbatto and Hill, to no avail. It was a stunned Moose team that left the field, with the thoughts of winning at Wampum Tuesday uppermost in their minds.

PFC WILLARD TODD, with the infantry in the European theater of operations has forwarded to Here & There a newspaper clipping, possibly from the Stars and Stripes, which tells of Corporal Billy Conn, contender for Sergeant Joe Louis' world heavyweight boxing title, leading a troupe of boxers which gives boxing exhibitions in the Third Army area. In the troupe is Pte. Russell Baxter of this city, and also George Richards, former Canadian welterweight champion will box with Conn. Billy stopped and looked over Soldiers Field at Nuremberg and was convinced, "the story stated that it was the logical spot for a championship bout. However, there isn't much likelihood of those two fighting with gloves in Germany. Baxter should learn a lot from Conn."

Navy has announced the appointment of two assistant football coaches, Lt. Edward Erdelay and Lt. Charles G. Patten, to the coming grid season. Lt. Erdelay is a graduate of St. Mary's College, 1933, and assistant football coach at San Anna, Texas, after that. Lt. Patten played on the Purdue team in 1938, transferred to Illinois and played two seasons there. Later he was assistant coach at Illinois. Cmdr. E. E. Miller, line coach, is returning to civilian life in the near future.

Matt Maryanski discharged Marine from Bloomfield, N. J., is one of the best prospects for the 1945 Notre Dame football team. Maryanski played two years at Fordham, in 1940-41, and excelled in the Marine. After three years in the corps, including 13 months in the Pacific, Maryanski was given a medical discharge with the rank of captain. He is six feet two inches,
